

Dream, Intend and MANIFEST!

Is it really possible to amplify your desires and manifest them? Would you like to enhance your meditation?

Manifesting has been talked about for years and practiced by millions of people!

Utilize the latest technology! Knobs/dials have been replaced by a microprocessor making the EWM the next generation in radionics!

Discover what people have been doing for decades!

Light, small and compact, the EWM is portable!

It is intended for both the beginner and the advanced user!

Earth Wave Manifester

Disclaimer

1. The EWM is offered for experimental use only.
2. The EWM is offered for entertainment purposes only because of its experimental nature.
3. The EWM is intended for adult use only. This is not a child's toy.
4. The EWM creates low intensity magnetic waves from .1 to 1000 Hz at 20mg at the surface of the unit.
5. The EWM is not designed or meant to be used to treat any type of medical illness.

Radionics devices or accessories are NOT medical devices. They CANNOT be used to heal any disease.

www.digitaldowsing.com

Using the Earth Wave Manifester

Version 1.0
Copyright © 2006-2013
All rights reserved
Experimental Device
For Experimental Use Only

Digital Dowsing LLC.
www.digitaldowsing.com

EWM User Guide

The EWM requires 3 AAA batteries, not included. Carefully remove back cover and install batteries in their proper order; note the + and - of the batteries.

A quartz crystal is visible through the viewing window of the faceplate. The light in the center of the crystal is the Earth Wave. The light on the left signals intent, the right signals target.

1. Turning on the unit, you will see three lights flashing behind the crystal. They will flash from left to right for a few seconds, then flash rapidly. The unit will then be ready to read the intent.
2. With the unit turned on, the user should place the intent on the spherical coil on the faceplate of the unit and press the Intent button. As the intent is read, the left light will slowly flash. When the lights begin to flash rapidly, the intent has been read.
3. Once the intent has been removed, it can be replaced by the target. Once the target is placed on the spherical coil, press the target button. As the target is read, the right light will slowly flash. When the lights begin to flash rapidly, the target has been read.
4. You may remove the target at this time. You should leave the unit powered on for at least two hours to project your intent and target.
5. The intent and target remain in the unit's memory even after the unit has been powered off. Simply turn back on to continue to project your intent and target.
6. Intent and target may be reprogrammed by repeating steps 2-4 above.

The difference between INTENT and TARGET

INTENT

Intent is something you desire; good health, wealth, good wishes, new home, friends, etc.

TARGET

Target is more specific; a person, date, place, etc.

When using your EWM, your intent may be read by placing a picture or written note of your desire on the unit. The target is read the same way.

Example 1: You would like to wish good fortune to your friends who are going to Las Vegas.

Record your intent by placing money or a piece of paper with your desire for your friends on the faceplate of the unit.

To record the target (your friends), place their picture on the faceplate of the unit.

Example 2: You would like a new dream home by a certain date.

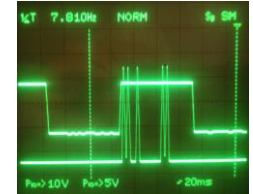

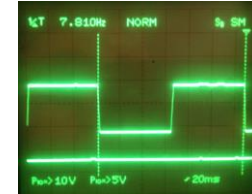

Place a picture of your dream home, or a note containing the description, on the faceplate to record the intent (the home).

To record the target, place a note with the date written on it on the faceplate of the unit.

What Earth Wave means and how it works

The EWM is built using surface mount technologies. Intent is sampled 50 times. That's 4000 bits of stored intent information.

The scope images below show the 7.8 Hz Earth Wave, as well as the Intent Wave. The Earth Wave Manifester creates square and saw waves from pure DC; no reversing polarity waves (AC) are created.

Earth Wave 7.8 Earth Wave & Intent/Target

Operating on 3 AAA batteries, the EWM's internal microprocessor controls all functions.

The Earth Wave is run constantly at 7.8 Hz to promote harmony with your natural surroundings, via a spiral coil. Your intent/target is broadcast via a paired set of coils.

The spherical coil on the faceplate has a custom designed serpentine receiver built on the unit's printed circuit board.

The sample is read 11 times. (First a 0 sample is used as a reference, then 10 additional samples to capture the essence of the intent/target, over the period of 1 earth wave, 7.84 Hz.)

The EWM will begin creating earth waves on the scalar coil and the intent/target will be reproduced on the phased coils, aka resonance coils. The unit will re-broadcast the intent/target and the earth wave as long as the unit is left on.

The intent/target is sampled and stored as 50 unique digital values. That's 4000 bits of information, not 3 to 6 settings. The intent/target remains stored in the EWM until the user chooses to change it.